FAQ

+ Are you insured?

Yes, we are fully insured. We have Professional Indemnity and Public Liability Insurance.

+ Can you hold our wedding date?

Unfortunately we are unable to hold your wedding date without a deposit.

+ How do we go about booking with you?

If we have availability all we would need to reserve your wedding date would be the £300 deposit and a signed contract. We'll send you the contract once we've received your deposit through.

+ When is the final balance due?

Your final balance of £650 is due one calendar month before your wedding.

+ What if you've not photographed at our wedding venue before?

If we haven't photographed at your venue before we'll arrange to go and have a look around a few weeks before the wedding. Some of our couples arrange to join us there to discuss ideas for the day.

+ What coverage do you offer on the day?

It's totally up to you what type of coverage you would like but we generally start with the getting ready shots, a couple of hours before the ceremony and continue up until a few dances after the first dance.

We are super flexible so just let us know what you had in mind.

+ Do you take group photographs?

Totally, It's your day and we are happy to capture as many group shots as you would like. We'll send you a form so you can list all the group shots you would like before the big day.

+ What happens after our wedding?

We'll edit your images and have them with you within two weeks of your wedding. Your USB Drive with all the high res images for you to print or use as you wish will also contain the images in low res, which are great for uploading to social media. We'll also upload your images to a password protected online gallery so your family and friends can view your photographs. This gallery will be live for one year and prints can be ordered through the gallery if required. Other products like our Wedding and Parent Books can be purchased anytime within the year after your wedding. We'll send you out an info pack with all the details on how to order any of these products after your wedding.
